FROM THE WEST.

[From the Virginia Enterprise.]

San Francisco, February 12.

The legal tender market is quiet. Brokers are buying at 73¼c and selling at 73½c.

The suit of Dr. Isaac Rowell vs. Wm. S. Moss et al., publishers of the Examiner, is on trial in the Sixth District Court, before a jury. The action is brought to recover $100,000 damages for the publication of an alleged libelous article, charging the plaintiff, it is claimed, with hiring ruffians to commit arson and other crimes, in connection with the Newman-Barstow land title suit.

Yesterday morning a fire broke out in Belduke & Sickart's wagon shop, on Folsom street, which proved quite a serious conflagration. Before it was extinguished several houses were partially destroyed, and two or three were so burned as to leave only charred shells of the buildings standing. Loss, $20,000.

Judge Cowles, yesterday, sentenced Louis Bowman, the show card publisher, convicted of conspiracy, to six months imprisonment in the County Jail. He also sentenced Josiah Quintrell, the keeper of a deadfall on Pacific street, convicted of robbing a drunken man of some $200, to three years in the State Prison.

The State Telegraph Company announces that on and after to-morrow the charges on overland dispatches will be reduced from eight to six dollars (in coin) for every message of ten words, with a proportionate reduction of twenty-five per cent. for each additional word.

The Hale & Norcross Company yesterday declared a dividend of $125 per foot, payable on and after the 15th instant.

A Hymenial Sell.—The Contra Costa Gazette relates the following in regard to the wiles of the fair sex:

From several reports received we infer that quite a ripple has been created upon the surface of every day affairs among our neighbors of the pleasant village of Clayton. As the matter is represented it appears that one of the long time residents of the neighborhood, not satisfied with the life of single blessedness in which he had walked nearly half a century, was captivated by the charms of a lady on a visit to the place from San Francisco; and, modestly distrusting his own diplomatic qualifications, enlisted some lady friends to plead his cause with the charmer, and to negotiate for his future happiness in wedlock's silken bonds. John anxiously waited the report of his envoys, and, as would be expected, was greatly elated on learning that their mission had been crowned with success. The wedding time being fixed for Thursday evening of last week, a warm and universal interest in the event was manifested in the community. John being a lone bachelor and the lady a visitor, it appears to have been the plan to assume a sort of community sponsorship of the festal ceremonies; accordingly the genial patron from whom the village takes its name opened his house for the occasion, and contributions of viands for the feast flowed in without stint from all quarters. The guests, young and old, were punctual to appointed time; the bride (that should have been) and bridegroom were in full wedding attire—the latter in high colored Kentucky jeans pants, new brogans and standing collar. As preliminary to the more important service of the occasion, the wedding supper was disposed of with the usual relish and attendant pleasantries. The acting minister (Rev. Mr. H——) then announced his readiness to tie the nuptial knot; hereupon the bride (that should have been) arose and declared that "since her engagement to John she had been informed that he was not of age, and she consequently had doubts of the propriety of consummating the engagement." The company, however, were willing to vouch for John's qualifications on the score of age, when, to their great surprise, the lady declared that she had been already married some three months to another man, whose likeness she presented for their inspection. It is said that the company, at this denouement, were overtaken with a very uncomfortable impression that there had been an awful "sell" played—our information does not enable us to determine whether John's female friends and envoys negotiated the "sell" or not, but the account we have represents that he was not by any means the only victim, as the bride (that should have been) said "they had no wedding feast when she was married, and thought this a good opportunity to get one."

A Modern Hercules.—To be the strongest man in the world is not an unenviable position, and feats of strength are always interesting sights, and frequently furnish topics of conversation and discussion. Such has been the case at Chesterfield, England, recently, at the Spa Hotel, in regard to feats of strength of a native of Australia, who gave a seance there before a sprinkling of members of the corporation, the medical profession, solicitors, veterinary surgeons, bankers, and some of the most respectable inhabitants of Chesterfield. Professor Hercules having exhibited some very valuable and handsome presents, proceeded to hold a fifty-six pound weight in various positions at arm's length, and increased the number until he raised four fifty-six pound weights above his head, holding them at arm's length, and at the same time standing upon four tumbler glasses. He also held weights on the top of the glass, and allowed a glass of water to be placed upon the top of the weights. He laid flat upon the floor and let a 56-pound weight fall a distance of about a yard on to his bare chest, and the weight rebounded as though it had come in contact with a piece of India rubber. A piece of stone four inches thick was next placed upon his chest, and Hinch, blacksmith, smashed it to fragments at two blows. Hinch and Turner then cut a piece of two-inch iron in two across his chest, with the hammer and chisel. The feats concluded by Professor Hercules laying flat upon the floor and allowing Hinch to strike him with all his strength on the chest with a 16-pound sledge hammer. The blow was met by the Professor, and the hammer rebounded without leaving a scratch upon his body. The audience were astounded, and so expressed themselves by their repeated rounds of applause. The Professor challenges the world as an athlete, for £1,000.

Relief for Frosted Limbs.—Frosted limbs are permanently relieved, it is said, by one or two applications of a boiled lye of wood ashes made so strong as to be quite slippery between the fingers. The lye should settle, be drained off, and have a large handful of common salt to each quart of lye mixed with it. It should be quite warm, and the limbs be submerged for one or two hours.

California Politics.

From our Western exchanges we notice that the politicians of California already begin to prick up their ears, in view of the elections which will come off in that State this Fall. Now that the Constitution provides that the State Government shall last four years instead of two, as formerly, it is a matter of very considerable moment to the people that they should make no blunders in the selection of the new Administration. In the palmy days of the old-time Democracy, when a nomination by the State Convention was equivalent to an election, the battle was fought, and won or lost, at the primaries. The people went through the forms of casting their votes for or against the regular nominees, pretty much as they do out here in Utah. The election of the Democratic ticket was a sure thing, and the people merely ratified the doings of the politicians in Convention assembled. But matters have changed, in this respect, in California. The sceptre of empire has fallen from the Democrats, and is wielded almost as royally by the Union party. As politicians, like any other plunder hunters, don't like to remain long in the minority, many of the old Democratic wire-workers are now identified with the Union party. At the next Convention they will take prominent part in the fray, and seek by those supple arts only known to the professional partisan to pull the wires and control the future State Convention. And they will have a right royal opportunity. The trading capital will be immense. There are Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, Attorney General, and a Supreme Judge to be chosen. To say nothing of the choice tit-bit of United States Senator in place of Conness, as a part and parcel of the trading capital, these offices present a fine chance for trading and wire-working. We are glad to see, from the indications of the press, that the people themselves are disposed to take the matter in hand, at least so far as the Governor is concerned, and not allow the mere politicians to manage the whole affair.

Among all the men who have been spoken of as likely to be before the Convention for the office of Governor, Gen. John Bidwell, at present Member of Congress, not only seems to take the lead in popular estimation, but in our judgment, also in fitness and merit. As a Congressman he has confessedly given very general satisfaction. On the great issues of the day he has been firm, steadfast and consistent in adherence to the sentiment of Unionism which he represents. There has on his part been neither faltering nor vacillation. He is known as a reliable, hard working and ever vigilant, rather than a mere talking member, and has accomplished many wholesome measures for the benefit of the Pacific coast.

The writer of this has known him long and favorably. Just at this juncture of public affairs we regard him as, above all others likely to be named, the man for the position, and the State will do well if it choose him as Governor for the next four years.

General Bidwell is one of the pioneers of the State, having migrated there about 1841, and by his foresight, industry and business qualifications has amassed a splendid private fortune. He is one of the largest land holders in the State, and his every interest is identified with the prosperity of California. He has never been and never will be a professional politician or place hunter. By what fortuitous circumstance he was lured from his quiet home at Chico to the turbulent Halls of Congress, we do not know. But he has acquitted himself there, as he does everywhere, with credit to himself and profit to his constituents. Should he be chosen Governor, it will be because the people demand it, and the politicians can't help it, rather than by any tricky combinations with other candidates.

California has emerged from the war with a heavy load of debt and taxation, which is crippling the industry of the people. What she wants most of all is a wise, economical and rigidly honest administration of her affairs during the next four years. By choosing such men as John Bidwell, whether the politicians like it or not, she may be reasonably assured of having it. As an old Californian, who has known something of the ins and outs, the twistings and turnings of Conventions, etc., we claim the right to at least look on the approaching struggle with no light degree of interest. If we had a vote in the Convention it would be cast for John Bidwell, but as we are out in the wilderness of Zion, we send up our prayers, not for him, but for California, that she may get as sound a man for her next Governor.

Parties and political organizations throughout the country just now are in a transition state, and it is difficult to say just what issues may enter into the campaign. Economy and integrity, however, in the administration of State affairs rise superior to all other issues, and these can be assured only by the selection of proper men as standard bearers. The people have had enough of the glittering generalities and stale platitudes of party platforms.

BEYOND THE SUMMIT.—The Central Pacific Railroad Company are making arrangements to haul over the snow 3,000 tons of rails, sufficient to lay 30 miles of track from Cisco to the Truckee River, to be laid early in the spring, there being now a large force grading the road along the river. When the heavy work at the summit is completed, this portion of the line being ready, they will be able to operate the road immediately to Crystal Peak, Nevada.

A schoolmaster in Ohio advertises that he will keep a Sunday school twice a week—on Tuesdays and Saturdays.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

New York, February 18.

The Times' special says the Attorney General has prepared a report, in answer to the resolution of Congress, stating that in no instance has he failed to execute the Civil Rights law in accordance with its terms.

Washington, February 18.

The Senate concurred in the House amendment to the additional Act to prevent smuggling.

McDougall has been appointed to the Committee of Conference on the Bankrupt bill.

The Committee of Conference discourage the further consideration of the subject of the establishment of an assay office in Utah and Arizona.

The bill in relation to appeals of writs of error in the Supreme Court was demanded, and passed.

The bill for the election of a Public Printer, as amended by the Senate, passed, and goes to the House for concurrence.

The River and Harbor bill, from the House, was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

The Military Academy appropriation bill passed after some amendments by the House.

The Secretary of the Senate announced the passage of the bill for the more efficient government of the rebel States, with amendments.

The following bills and joint resolutions were introduced: Prohibiting the admission, free from duty, of foreign iron; to abolish the tax on coffee, sugar, molasses and raw cotton; proposing an amendment to the Constitution; providing for the removal of Judges from the Supreme and Inferior Courts by the President, upon the address of two-thirds of each branch of the Legislature, on any reasonable cause, which is not sufficient for impeachment; memorial of the Utah Legislature, praying for the repeal of the Act to punish polygamy, referred; for a recess of the House daily, except Saturdays, from 4:30 to 7:30, adopted; declaring that the Constitution authorizes the Chief Executive to extend the pardoning power to persons who have been tried by the proper tribunals and convicted of crime, and none others, and consequently all pardons granted to such as were never convicted, or tried, are null and void, referred; directing the Committee on Banking and Currency to inquire into the expediency of withdrawing all bank currency as rapidly as can be without injury to the national banks, supplying the place of such currency with United States Treasury notes, tabled, 95 to 56.

Commissioner Bogy succeeded in having transferred to the charge of the Indian Department 6,000 or 7,000 Navajoe Indians, now held prisoners by the military of New Mexico. These Indians cost the Government last year $1,500,000, whereas by the transfer the Commissioners propose to take better care of them, at a cost not exceeding $500.000.

A delegation, from the Missouri river, of Sioux Indians, numbering 44, arrived here yesterday.

New York, February 18.

The Fenians profess to believe that fighting is going on in Ireland, and are working with energy to send aid to them. Colonel Roberts says any practicable movement of a formidable warlike character commenced in Ireland by the brotherhood of which he is head, will furnish their power to render it successful. Meantime the Circles under his command are preparing a campaign against Canada, which promises to be of a formidable character.

Senate, evening session—Grimes moved to reconsider the vote passing the Diplomatic Appropriation bill, for the purpose of reducing the contingent fund of the State Department from $60,000 to $30,000. Sumner opposed the amendment. Davis also opposed it, and spoke eulogistically of Seward. Saulsbury spoke of Seward as the Mephistopheles of the age, and said Seward and Stanton were dragging the President to compromise with Congress, and he hoped the President would agree to no such thing.

The petition from the Utah Legislature was presented to Congress to-day, which asserts that polygamy has had a great moral influence, saving the people from prostitution and other kindred evils.

The World's special says it is rumored that the resignation of Postmaster Randall is untrue.

If the Tariff bill does not pass by Wednesday the President cannot pocket it. It will be difficult to get it through before Wednesday.

Washington, January 18.

An order has been issued in the Department of the South, dated Charleston, 14th, that all enlisted men now undergoing confinement under sentence of court martial for desertion, shall be released when they have been confined six months.

New York, February 18.

A Matanzas paper, of the 6th, gives the following account of Frederick Seward's voyage previous to his arrival at Nassau, as written by a person of credit: St. Domingo continues quiet, but I think on the same day the Barcilona left there was a riot on account of the presence in the river of an American steamer, for it seems there is some fear that the Government is in treaty with the Washington Government to cede to it some port of the Island, for example, Samana. According to the Captain of the Barcilona, there were several shots fired, although the result was not known. The American steamer immediately left the river and anchored in the roads.

Washington, February 18.

Additional House—Various propositions were made to continue the debate, and it was finally agreed upon by unanimous consent that the debate should be continued to-night, and the House meet to-morrow at 11, when the vote would be immediately taken.

New Orleans, February 19.

The capture of Zacatecas by Miramon is confirmed. Juarez narrowly escaped.

Nashville, February 18.

The Tennessee Senate passed the bill conferring suffrage on the negroes. A motion to strike out the clause prohibiting them from serving on juries and holding office, was lost by a tie vote. The bill had previously passed the House.

Washington, February 18.

At the evening session of the Senate, Williams, from the Committee of Conference on the tenure of office bill, made a report. The Committee had agreed to retain the House amendment, which was to strike out that portion of the bill excepting Cabinet officers from those who cannot be removed without the consent of the Senate, and to insert a proviso that the Secretaries of State, Treasury, Army, Navy, and Interior, the Postmaster General and Attorney General, shall hold their offices respectively during the term of the President by whom they are appointed, and one month thereafter, subject to removal by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. After debate, the report of the Committee was agreed to.

A bill to establish an Assay Office at Portland, or Boise City, I. T., and Helena, M. T., and appropriating $75,000 therefor, was passed.

On motion of Sumner, the Louisiana bill was taken up.

Wilson spoke in favor of the bill, but without action the Senate adjourned.

New Orleans, February 18.

Advices from Orizaba, Mexico, of February 11th, announce the final and complete evacuation of the Capital by the French forces on February 6th. The whole Expeditionary corps is on the road to Vera Cruz. Some 10,000 of Maximilian's Mexican [illegible] 100, and the Imperialists claim [illegible] army of 30,000 well armed men.

The Imperialists have levied a tax of one per cent. on the inhabitants of the City of Mexico.

Maximilian wears the Mexican uniform, and reviews his troops in the streets of the city, and the enthusiasm of the inhabitants for the Emperor is renewed.

Galveston, February 18.

Brownsville dates of February 13th report the Liberals as everywhere victorious. Escobado had fought two battles with Miramon, who in the last fight was shot through both legs and had his army utterly routed. General Tradino and Col. Pedro Martinez were pursuing them hotly, and a courier who arrived this evening announces that there were not ten of the Imperialists under Miramon left together.

Zacatecas had been re-occupied by the Liberals, and the only force between Juarez and the City of Mexico was one of 2,000 men under Castillo.

Matamoras, February 13.

An official report of General Escobado to President Juarez, announces that Miramon was completely routed, leaving on the battle field a number of prisoners, and all his artillery, ammunition trains, and equipage.

New York, February 19.

The Fenians here are still sanguine of the success of the Irish Republic. The discouraging news of yesterday gave but a slight shock to their ardent expectations. During the day business has been lively at Stephen's headquarters, enrolling volunteers and receiving donations.

Washington, February 19.

The Committee of Ways and Means have restored to a great extent the original House Tariff bill. The rate of duty on salt is reduced from 24 to 20 cents per bushel; as fixed by the Senate they were 26 and 22 cents. Linseed is reduced to 20 cents per bushel. The duty on steel is advanced half a cent a pound over Senate rates. Hardware, wool and woolens are advanced to correspond to the House bill, and there is a corresponding advance on many articles. The section prohibiting the importation of fire crackers is stricken out, as is also the section relating to drawbacks on ship building, agricultural and other implements. The clause with regard to damaged and under valuation goods is likewise stricken out. The 9th section, adding freight and commissions to invoice values, is left out. Duties are advanced on sal soda, caustic, carbonate of soda, while those on spelter and silk goods are greatly beyond Senate rates.

The rates of duties are mainly retained on iron, but are advanced on some articles and reduced on others. The Senate proposed to levy a duty of 11 and 12 cents on scrap iron, but the Committee recommend 5 and 10 cents. Cotton rates are somewhat advanced over those of the Senate. Ivory is stricken out of the free list. The privilege to the Pacific R. R. Company to use foreign iron, instead of American as now provided by law, is denied.

Nashville, February 19.

The Journal's special says that a mob, composed of the remains of Quantrell's guerrillas, broke open Mr. Carries' house, at Parksville, Tenn., and seized and hung Carries. He had been tried for stealing horses to escape from the rebels at the battle of Perryville.

Washington, February 19.

The House non-concurred in the Senate amendments to the Military Government bill —73 to 98; and asked a Committee of Conference.

It is the opinion of the Treasury Department that the Loan Certificate bill will pass the House and become a law; that the Additional Soldiers' Bounty bill will also be carried; but that the assumption of the war debts of States by Congress will fail for the present.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE.]

London, February 18—M.

Ireland is perfectly tranquil. A small number of rebels, concealed in the woods, are endeavoring to escape to the coast, but troops are disposed so as to frustrate them. Troops have been sent to Mahalide to arrest Stephens, who is supposed to be in that vicinity.

London, February 18.

The cause of the Fenian outbreak in the south of Ireland is yet buried in obscurity, though the telegraph lines through the disaffected districts are again working. Some say it was caused by the arrest of an American officer, Captain Moriarty, while others say his prompt arrest prevented a general rising of the Irish. The British Government had news of the affair early on the 12th from an upper servant in the household of Earl Kenmore, who had received two anonymous notes stating that the rising was planned in Killarney, and the leader would come from Cochorcreen that night. The constables were immediately sent to intercept him. They found Moriarty, whom they took into custody, and on searching his person found letters confirming the assertions in the anonymous letters. A courier, named Dugan, was sent to Cochorcreen to warn the police party, but the rebels caught him and demanded the papers, which he refused to give up and attempted to escape, when they fired and wounded him. So far as is yet known he is the only person hurt. The police got news of the trouble by other messengers and from several spies among the Fenians. They were strengthened by a detachment from the man-of-war Gladiator, lying off Valentia, and saved their station from attack. One band of Fenians, ninety in number, took horse for their leader, O'Connor, and another band stopped the mail on the road from Killarney to Cochorcreen, but did no violence to anyone. The Fenian plan was to attack and capture Killarney and then march to Cork; but the immediate disposition of troops from Cork to Killarney by General Bates, and the celerity of Colonel Howard's movements, defeated the whole plot and caused the insurgent bands to disperse. No Fenians were captured, and O'Connor and his staff are said to have reached Fenian vessels off Dinglebray.

Thirty-four suspected persons were arrested in Dublin yesterday, and, after examination, five were retained in custody.

Dublin, February 18.

Head Centre Murphy and Colonels Lawler, Healy and Johnson have been arrested at Limerick, and important papers found on their persons and in their lodgings. The excitement is rapidly spreading.

London, February 18.

Madrid dispatches say the King Consort will be exiled from Spain, charged with plotting for the Regency of the Kingdom.

Berlin, February 18.

Bismarck will soon go to Stuttgard for the purpose of forming a new agreement of the German States for the collection Custom duties.

FROM THE WEST.

[From the Sacramento Union.]

San Francisco, February 10.

The steamer Pacific arrived from Columbia river all right, last night, having been detained in Baker's Bay by the gale.

Charles Picard, a Frenchman, who had been ill for a long time, shot himself through the head with a derringer, at 620 Jackson street last night. He left a note avowing his intention to commit suicide.

Jean Theodore, an old West Indian, was found dead in his bed on Pacific street this morning.

The house of Hillyer, formerly of Sacramento, on Sutter and Gough streets, was ransacked by burglars last night and a considerable amount of valuable plunder carried off.

Thomas Gorman was arrested at the Mission this morning, charged with an attempt to outrage the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds.

The number of deaths in San Francisco last week was 36, the smallest ever reported since the Health Office was established.

A man working in Meyers' bag factory, Clay street, slipped in walking across the floor yesterday and fell, breaking his ankle so that the bones protruded and amputation was necessary. The case is a very singular one.

A balance dry dock, two hundred feet in length and fifty feet in breadth, capable of docking a vessel of seven hundred tons, is building at Cozzens' boat yard, North Point, for parties who propose to anchor it somewhere along the city front.

El Dorado, February 10.

Joseph Henry, of Kelly Flat, was instantly killed yesterday. He was working at a quartz mill as an engineer. The belt of the fly-wheel became detached, and in trying to adjust it he was thrown over the wheel, breaking his neck. He leaves a wife and three children.

Victoria, February 7.

The American ship Nicholas Biddle, Captain Howe, bound from a port on Puget Sound to San Francisco, with 532,000 feet of lumber, was caught in a terrific gale on Sunday night while running down the Straits under light sail and had her canvas blown away. The Captain then headed the ship for anchorage in Royal Roads, but drifted upon Rosedale Rocks. After striking the ship remained fast. The Captain and all hands, with the exception of the cook, left in the ship's boat for Esquimalt. Her Britanic Majesty's ship Sparrowhawk was immediately sent to the relief of the distressed vessel. Upon reaching the rocks it was found that the ship had floated off on the flood tide and was then off Discovery Island water logged. She was towed into Esquimalt harbor, where she now lies, having sustained serious injuries to her bottom. The ship is uninsured.

About eleven o'clock on Monday night the schooner Meg Merrilles, bound to Victoria, with a load of produce from Pennes Cove, Whidby's Island, ran on a sunken rock off this place and went over on her beam ends. The crew saved themselves by means of a small boat, in which they managed to reach the shore, notwithstanding a heavy swell. The wind was blowing a perfect hurricane at the time of the accident, and the schooner struck so heavy as to lose her false keel and start her timbers. Part of her cargo floated ashore yesterday, and the high wind that prevailed prevented any communication being had with the vessel. The Meg Merrilles is an American built schooner of 50 tons, and is valued at $3,000. The cargo is worth about $700.

San Francisco, February 13.

Legal tenders are quoted at 73½c., buying, and 74c., selling.

A riot occurred yesterday morning near the gas works on Townsend street between Second and Third. A man named Grant, a contractor, has had in his employ a large number of men, engaged in cutting away the hill in the locality above named. He recently undertook to reduce their wages from two dollars to one dollar and seventy-five cents per day. They refused to stand the reduction, when he discharged them and employed Chinamen in their stead. Yesterday morning, about 10 o'clock, some three hundred laboring men collected together, proceeded to the place where the Chinamen were working and drove them off. Some of the Chinamen were roughly handled, and one was so much injured that he was taken to the hospital. The laborers then proceeded to demolish the shanty which the Coolies had occupied. A portion of it was torn down and the contents thrown into the street. A short time afterward three or four police officers arrived on the ground. They found the shanty on fire, but extinguished it without much trouble. After finishing their work here, the rioters proceeded, in a body, across Long Bridge, their number increasing as they went. By the time they reached the Potrero, they numbered five or six hundred. Their objective point here was Tubbs' rope walk, where a large number of Chinamen are employed. The Coolies, however, had heard of their approach, and not one was to be found when the crowd arrived. The Chinese quarters, a long row of buildings, were fired and totally destroyed. The attacking party next proceeded to a place where a number of the enemy had been at work on the road; but they had also been informed of their danger, and withdrew. Their house was burned and their cooking utensils, etc., destroyed. About this time Chief Crowley, accompanied by Captain Lees and others of the police force, arrived, and met the rioters near the glass works. The Chief rode up to the crowd, and addressed to them a few sensible and forcible remarks, when they as sensibly promised to disperse and commit no further outrages. No arrests were made. All the police force, regular and special, were kept under orders at the City Hall yesterday, ready to be mustered at a moments notice, but their services were not required.

The California, Oregon and Mexican Steamship Company propose giving a grand entertainment to their friends in the shape of an ocean excursion to Mexico on the steamship Oriflamme. She will leave this port next Sunday.

William L. Crowell, late a member of the editorial staff of the Times, died in this city Monday afternoon.

E DRAMATIC CRITIC.—It is fortu- actors in our theatres, at the pres- t theatrical criticism does not n it did, some years ago, in one least, in this city. Hon. James was a representative in Congress h Carolina from 1821 to 1822, and o 1834, attended a play at the Wash- tre, one evening early in March, in a state of partial intoxication. mance displeased him to that de- e drew his pistol and fired at the the stage, the bullet passing just ead of Miss Jefferson, daughter of on, Sen. The actors stampeded age, and a quick curtain was rung resently Mr. Ingersoll, the stage ppeared, looking pale and agitated, the audience: "Ladies and gentle- re is to be shooting at the actors e, it will be impossible for the per- o go on." About three weeks after- ch 27, 1834, Mr. Blair blew out his s with his pistol, at his boarding Capitol Hill.—Washington Repub-

TUNNELLING THE SIERRAS.—The Virginia Enterprise thus speaks of tunnelling through the Sierras, and making the way open for the progress of the railroad:

Although the rocky peaks about the Summit, towering eleven hundred feet above Donner Lake, are heaped and rounded up with snow, the work of driving forward the various tunnels necessary at this point of the railroad, goes bravely on. At both ends of the main or longest tunnel gangs of Chinamen are to be seen like ants swarming in and out, while in the middle ground are to be seen shooting into the cold thin air, great globular, rolling masses of more than snow-white vapor from the escape-pipe of a winter smothered shaft house. Here the shaft has reached the level of the grade, and the workmen have faced about and are driving either way. Thus upon four faces at once is work going on in the great tunnel. The progress made, we are informed, is about six feet per week. Further east and far out around the southern shore of the lake—away up on the walls of the almost perpendicular cliffs—two or three other shorter tunnels are being bored and battered through the hard gray granite projecting out across the line of the intended track. Looking far up we saw in one place, standing upon a naked pinnacle of granite, that seemed to stand in the direct path of the engine in its approach and entrance into a great column or peak near by, what at first appeared two or three ravens, pecking spitefully at each other—each pecking in turn. Looking more narrowly at the little black figures, so grotesquely bobbing upon the spire of rock, and aided by a background of snow, we at length made out three Chinamen—one holding a drill and the other two striking it. In other places the same black specks were moving along the steep walls of the cliffs—all boring and hammering away at tunnels in the great granite domes. How cold it looked away up there—how far away and lost in the dreary glitter of the frosted snow!

FROM the Montana Post of the 12th inst., we clip the following:

Hendry's eighteen stamp mill in Grizzly gulch cleaned up on last Wednesday something over $5,000 from a six days' run on Whitlatch Union rock. They are a long way "after the banner," in Madison county yet; and now that Turnley's little giant has got to running again, they will doubtless be entirely distanced.

Messrs. Bohm & Mollitor, the well known assayers of Salt Lake City, have bought the building on Main street heretofore known as the Helena Bowling Alley, which they are now fitting up for the purpose of starting a branch of their buiness in this city. They will be ready to commence operations some time in March. The office here will be under the superintendence of Mr. Mollitor, and it is the intention of the firm to do a general melting, refining and assaying business.

"THE STAGE-STRUCK BARBER."—Speaking of a late performance of this piece in San Francisco, the Alta says:

Mrs. Jackson imitated Mrs. Kean, and McCullough imitated Edwin Forrest so well that the house fairly shook with the applause they received. McCullough was obliged to repeat a portion of the imitation. It was so perfect that the audience could not withhold their applause until the culmination of the speech.

The Call adds:

The "Stage-Struck Barber" gave Mrs. H. Jackson an opportunity of imitating Mrs. Charles Kean as Evelyn, in the "Wife's Secret." The imitation was very close, and so readily recognized by the audience that a roar of laughter and applause followed it. McCullough was equally successful in imitating Forrest, in a reading from the "Gladiator." The audience compelled an encore.

Are gentlemen dressed
In suits from Anker's Hall,
And none, as yet, was heard to regret,
That he ever gave him a call.

He honestly deals,
And nothing conceals,
Regarding the wear of his clothes,
But speaks with the truth,
To man and to youth,
Which each of his customers knows.

Hence, friends, one and all,
Go to Anker's Hall,
Walk boldly—don't cowardly creep,
For there you'll find,
All obliging and kind,
With Clothing tremendously cheap.

The citizens of Utah, Idaho and Montana are at all times cordially invited to call at ANCHOR'S POPULAR CLOTHING HOUSE, when in Denver, and examine his most Elegant and Tasteful Stock of Goods, which will be sold at Prices Guaranteed Lower than the Lowest.
